

He is not only idle who does nothing, but he is idle who might be better employed.

Socrates

470 BC - 399 BC