

The mark of a noble individual lies in their unwavering commitment to doing what is right, rather than being swayed by countless options available.

Seneca

4 BC - 65 AD