

We always hope that on their own, people will discover their true calling.

Of course it doesn't always happen.

Sometimes, the person who only aspires to a dignified nine-to-five job and enough money to make ends meet, offers us a mutually beneficial arrangement.

Ricardo Semler
1959 -