

There are three things that have meaning for life.

They are the motivational factors for everything in your life — for anything that you do or any living thing does.

The first is survival, the second is social order, and the third is entertainment.

Everything in life progresses in that order.

Linus Torvalds

1969 -