

As far as we can discern, the sole purpose of human existence is to kindle a light in the darkness of mere being.

Carl Jung
1875 - 1961