

Managers are concerned with the essence of what employees do for the company, nothing more — certainly not the boarding school issues of who arrived at what time, wearing what clothes and left when to go where.

Ricardo Semler

1959 -