

Through hardship, we are forced to confront our weaknesses, and in doing so, we uncover the seeds of our own resilience.

Epictetus
55 AD - 135 AD