

*An education is not how much you have committed to memory,
or even how much you know.*

It is being able to differentiate between what you know and what you do not.

Anatole France

1844 - 1924